

R H A P S O D Y

July 2017

Keegan-Michael Key
Gets Serious

---

French Revolutions

Cycling a stage of the Tour de France

Tasty Stays

The world's most delicious new hotels

**+
Sneakers and spritzes
for summer

UNITED

A STAR ALLIANCE MEMBER

Club Houses

Live like a PGA pro at these golf lovers' dream estates

Travelers Rest, South Carolina

The Basics: Don't just live on an award-winning Gary Player-designed golf course; live in the South African golf icon's former residence at The Cliffs at Mountain Park, a 5,000-acre compound just 30 minutes north of up-and-coming Greenville, South Carolina. The five-bedroom, six-bathroom copper-roofed home offers expansive views of the Blue Ridge Mountains and the naturally landscaped Mountain Park course, set along the banks of the North Saluda River. Mixing rustic Mountain style (think walnut and stone floors and a large fireplace) with South African-inspired decor selected by Player himself, this 6,900-square-foot house stands out from the area's more traditional Southern homes.

The Lifestyle: Residents at The Cliffs enjoy access to the property's seven courses—designed by greats including Player, Jack Nicklaus, Tom Fazio, and Ben Wright—and can play a different championship course every day of the week through their memberships. The Mountain Park Community also offers easy access to The Cliffs' own five-acre organic farm, as well as 8.5 miles of trails for hiking and biking.

The Extras: The grounds of the 2.57-acre property (into which Player invested more than $1 million) encourage outdoor living, with stone walking paths, a waterfall, and an infinity pool that overlooks the course's par-3 7th hole. A screened-in dining porch features a built-in exterior kitchen and more views of the course and the mountains. $6,600,000, cliffsliving.com

From top: the rustic mountain exteriors of Gary Player's former home in Travelers Rest; the house's South African-inspired interior

Pebble Beach, California

1552 Cypress Drive

• This four-bedroom, five-bathroom French Country-style home is one of only five properties located along Pebble Beach's challenging par-5 18th hole, which Phil Mickelson once described as "a very nerve-racking shot." From your living room or brick patio during February's Pebble Beach Pro-Am tournament, you can watch the pros pass by the 270 feet of golf course frontage. The property comes with its own lap pool and lush gardens filled with hybrid tea roses and lavender, and it's a short walk away from Pebble Beach Resorts' members-only Beach & Tennis Club and five-star spa. $25,750,000, sothebysrealty.com

Casa de Campo, Dominican Republic

Costamar 8

• Bordering the par-3 15th hole at Casa de Campo's "Teeth of the Dog" course—designed by renowned architect Pete Dye—this contemporary 16,000-square-foot villa provides unparalleled access to the No. 1 golf resort in the Caribbean. Cool off after a day on the links in one of the property's two pools, and drink in uninterrupted views of the Caribbean's turquoise waters from each of the six bedrooms. With a large indoor dining room and alfresco breakfast area, each of which seats 16, there's more than enough room for entertaining. $8,500,000, christiesrealestate.com

Rachael Boling (The Cliffs); Interface Visual (Pebble Beach); Cherrera (Costamar)